This is an umbrella organisation covering the Lake District teams, police representatives and other organisations interested in mountain rescue.

The purpose of the Lake District Search and Mountain Rescue Association is to act as a link between the national body, Mountain Rescue England & Wales and all other interested bodies. The association speaks out and acts on behalf of the teams on matters relating to Lake District mountain rescue as a whole. It also fosters publicity aimed at the prevention of mountain accidents.

Chairman's Report 2018

Welcome to the 2018 annual report that offers an insight into the work of the 12 LDSAMRA teams and includes the official statistics for the past twelve months up to 31st December 2018. Another very busy year for the Lake District teams.

The total number of '999' calls handled in 2018 was 656, an increase of nearly 20% over 2017. This has been partly due to the severe weather in March 2018 where the east of the county took the brunt and resulted in around 50 separate '999' extreme weather related responses. Around 30 of these were handled by the Penrith and Kirkby Stephen teams with mutual support from all the LDSAMRA teams.

Mutual and collaborative support is becoming more and more necessary for the region's teams as the workload increases on what is a very dedicated but volunteer service. Joint training along with common operational standards has simplified this transition which was identified a number of years ago as the way forward in the LDSAMRA Rescue 2020 review. Moving to digital radio communication has probably been the greatest step change for 2018 with all the teams now effectively linked via a network of digital repeater stations, with masts strategically positioned around the county. The change from analogue to digital has improved communication performance and the £100,000 investment has been very worthwhile, benefitting both our casualties and the safety of our team members.

As one the busiest regions in the country, we remain proud and privileged to be able to provide our voluntary and free rescue service to those who need our help. This is of course only possible through the generosity of those we rescue and and the people visiting or living within our communities. There is very little in the way of central funding, therefore fundraising remains and ongoing and important activity for the teams. Their annual running costs are between £30,000 and £100,000 each year, dependent on the teams workload and this figure is rising.

Donations, bequests and legacies sent to the LDSAMRA Association do make a significant difference and it is gratifying to see that the work of the teams is recognised by both those we rescue and the general public who hear about the work we do. Income to the Association is shared equally amongst the teams to supplement their own fundraising activities but is also used for cross team training and LDSAMRA driven projects. It is important that those who donate know and understand that their contributions, however small, do make a big difference to the ability of teams to operate effectively. Also to know that none of our mountain rescue volunteers or LDSAMRA officers receive any salary for the work they do. As a volunteer search and rescue organisation we remain extremely proud of this ethos.

In conclusion, I would like to thank our many supporters, without their help and donations we would not exist. I would also like to thank the external organisations and agencies with whom we work, the 420 volunteer team members of LDSAMRA and their families for their limitless commitment and support. Finally the LDSAMRA Officers, working groups and sub-committees for their dedication, support and hard work over the past twelve months.

Richard Warren
Chairman LDSAMRA , February 2019.

Notes

Due to changes in the way data has been recorded this year it has not been possible to identify specific hill walking injuries although it can safely be assumed that these make up around 75 -80% of callouts.

The total number of incidents reflects all recorded incidents, some of which may be alerts rather than full callouts.

Causes of Incidents

The following table is the result of a search through all the reports for key words relating to the causes of calling out the MRTs. For example, the category 'Benighted' will include any word with 'benight-' and 'darkness' as part of the word or phrase.

Please note that the totals of these columns may not match the number of incidents given at the bottom of each column. Many incident reports refer to more than one of these causes.

Editors Note:

There are a few minor changes in the content of the Annual Report this year. Early in 2018 Mountain Rescue England and Wales (MREW) informed us that they would be introducing a new system of centralised incident recording to replace the very antiquated and cumbersome logging system we were using at the time. This system was due to be introduced in the spring but as is inevitable with these things there were delays and it only finally came into use on Jan 1st 2019.

Each team in LDSAMRA has responsibility for recording their own incidents and some interpreted the change as an opportunity to discontinue the old system, perhaps a little prematurely. The system we used up until the end of this year is a closed system and as Incident Officer I have very little access to the data it contains. What I do know however is that the software for some reason is not accurately reflecting the number of incidents the Lake District teams have to deal with.

So for 2018 we have based the incident reporting on the SARCALL log which is our centralised job logging software and which the new Incident Recording system will take its initial data from. This has been taken as the baseline and has been compared and collated with both the output from the old incident system and data extracted from the teams own websites. Not all teams record all the data so weather and type of incident have not been published and in many cases the man hours and grid references are not available.

Age profile of Subjects

The following table shows the ages of both male and female subjects where both age and gender were reported.

Age (yrs)	Gender	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018
1 -10	Male	3	6	1	4	3
	Female	2	0	0	2	3

	Female	5	4	2	4	6

Totals	Male	251	265	211	310	266
	Female	168	190	189	231	195
	Unrecorded	-	-	-	-	196

Sites of Injury

The table that follows is the result of a search through all the reports for key words relating to sites of injury or medical condition. For example, the category 'Lower leg' will include any word with 'tibia', 'fibula', 'lower leg' and 'shin' as part of the word or phrase. It should not be considered a conclusive list as full injury details are not always recorded.

Please note that the totals of these columns do not match the number of persons given at the bottom of the table. Unfortunately, many subjects sustained more than one injury as a result of the accident. A typical example will illustrate this:

'Fracture/dislocation of the ankle, cuts to hands and knee'.

This will result in contributions to the ankle, hands & wrist and knee categories.

Site of Injury	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018

Mobile Phones and Mountain Rescue

Advice to Users

There is no doubt that using mobile phones have saved lives in the mountains and fells of this country. The sooner rescue teams are alerted to an incident the better are the chances of a quick and complete recovery for the casualty. However, over the past few years there have been occasions when teams have been alerted inappropriately. The notes that follow are given in the hope that the mobile phone can be used to better effect and to minimise any frustration.

DO NOT rely on your phone as your sole method of navigation, batteries do not last indefinitely and suffer a decrease in power, especially in the cold. Teams have been called out several times this year to recover people who's phones ran out of power. If in a group, try and keep one phone switched off for use in emergencies.

When to use

- If you or a member of your party sustains an injury warranting the assistance of a mountain rescue team.
- If you come across someone who has sustained an injury warranting the assistance of a mountain rescue team.
- If one of the party has become separated from you and you have made every effort to but have been unable to meet up again.
- If you want to report having seen or heard any internationally recognised distress calls.
- If you wish to notify someone of a change of plan (not a 999 call)
- When not to use
- Do not use the mobile phone at the 'first sign of trouble', be self-reliant if possible.
- Do not rely solely on the mobile phone as a safety device, there are areas of poor or not reception ('dead areas').
- The mobile phone is not a substitute for experience

How to use

1. First make a note of all relevant details, Location and Grid Reference Name, Gender and Age of Casualty.
Nature of injuries or disability.
Number of people in party and intended destination
THE NUMBER OF THE MOBILE PHONE YOU ARE USING
2. Dial 999 and ask for the Police.
3. Make sure you tell the operator that you require the Cumbria Police as you are in Cumbria. In other areas of the country give an appropriate area.
4. When connected to a Police control room, check that it is Cumbria Police. If it is not, then make sure that the information will be passed on.
5. Explain the nature of your call, giving details previously prepared (1)
6. Do NOT change your position until contacted by Rescue who will agree future protocol for use of Phone.
7. If you have to make a further 999 call, use ALL the procedure again.

SARLOC

Rescue teams have access to a mobile phone technology called SARLOC which if you are lost or injured can help pinpoint your position and save the team time in getting to your location. SARLOC is not an App and you can't install it on your phone. If the rescue team decide to use SARLOC they will send you a text with details of what to do next. Follow the instructions in the text.

SARLOC only works on smartphones and you need 'Location Services' to be active on your phone. If a team does SARLOC you, or call you for details stay where you are until the team gets to you. You may be lost - but they will know exactly where you are. If the position you are in is dangerous (high winds for example) and you do need to move, call the team first to ask their advice.

Advice to Mountain Users

Many calls to Mountain Rescue Teams are avoidable. With adequate preparation, awareness of local conditions, experience and the application of common sense, the number of accidents can be reduced. The following points cover the minimum precautions you should take if you want to avoid getting hurt or lost or, in the event of an accident, minimise further harm to you and your party.

Planning and Preparation

- Plan before setting out! Maps are essential and guidebooks are full of advice. Consider the equipment, experience, capabilities and enthusiasm of the party members.
- Check the weather forecast and local conditions, Scottish mountains can be major undertakings. Night encroaches early in the winter and the further north you go! Check the website www.mwis.org.uk
- Carry a First Aid kit and learn how to give First Aid
- Many accidents occur towards the latter part of the day when both your energy levels and those of your phone and GPS batteries will be run down. Did you remember to charge your battery before setting out?

Footwear and Clothing

- Wear suitable boots with a treaded sole and sufficient support for ankles.
- Clothing should be colourful, warm, windproof and waterproof.
- Take spare warm clothing and perhaps a hat and gloves, it is always colder on the tops.

Food and Drink

- In addition to the usual sandwiches, take chocolate, dates, or similar sweet things, this can restore energy quickly. You may not need them yourself, but someone else may.
- Streams on hills are drinkable if fast-running over stony beds.

Equipment and its Use

- A map, compass and the ability to use them, at least one reliable watch in the party should always be carried.
- If you carry a GPS, at least know how to read your current position. It could save a lot of hassle in an emergency when speaking to the Rescue Team
- In all conditions, it is wise to carry a whistle, torch, spare batteries and bulbs, but in winter conditions, an ice-axe, crampons and survival bag are essential.
- Climbers and mountain bikers are all urged to wear suitable helmets at all times.

Party Size

- If in groups, make sure party leaders are experienced, do not let the party become separated.
- Take special care of the youngest and weakest in dangerous places.
- If you prefer to go alone, be aware of the additional risk. Let people know your route before you start, stick to it as far as you can and notify them of any changes.

Emergency Procedures

- Be prepared to turn back if conditions are against you, even if this upsets your plan. Report changes of route or timetable to someone who is expecting you.
- If you have a serious problem, get a message to the Police (999) for help as soon as possible and keep injured/exhausted people safe and warm until help reaches you. If you cannot contact anyone, use six whistle blasts or torch flashes, repeated at minute intervals, to signal an emergency.

Dangers - all can be avoided by good route-finding

- Cliffs, slopes of ice or steep snow
- Very steep grass slopes, especially if frozen or wet
- Unstable boulders, gullies, gorges and stream beds
- Rivers and streams in spate
- Snow cornices on ridges or gully tops
- Exceeding your experience and abilities

Dangers - all can be avoided by remaining alert

- Weather changes - these can be sudden and more extreme than forecast
- Ice on path - carry an ice-axe and crampons - and know how to use them
- Loss of concentration, especially toward the end of a long day
- Excessive cold or heat - dress appropriately
- Separating from the rest of the group
- Incipient exhaustion - know the signs, rest, take some food and keep warm
- Accident or illness - don't panic - if you send for help, make sure you stay put and the rescuers know exactly where to come
- Passage of Time - especially true when under pressure allow extra time in winter conditions

Pride

- It is no disgrace to turn back if you are not certain. A party must be governed by the capabilities of the weakest member.

Donating To Mountain Rescue

If you wish to support financially the Mountain Rescue Service, in the Lake District the Association will be pleased to receive your donation. The Association equally shares out all it receives to the 12 Teams in the Lake District. There are several ways of assisting, some more financially advantageous than others.

1. Gift Aid .

Following recent changes in the law relating to donating to charities, completion of a Deed of Covenant is no longer necessary. Most donations are now covered by a Gift Aid declaration. If you pay tax, Gift Aid is a scheme by which you can give a sum of money to a Charity and the Charity can reclaim from the Inland Revenue basic rate tax on your gift. You can make payments by cash, cheque, postal order, direct debit or standing order. Subject to a few rules, you can give any amount, large or small, regular or one-off and the charity can reclaim the tax.

If you want to make a donation through Gift Aid please complete the form printed opposite having read the notes and return it, with either your donation or a completed copy of the Bankers Order to the Association's treasurer.

- 1.1 If your declaration covers donations you may make in the future:
 - Please notify the charity if you change your name or address while the declaration is in force
 - You can cancel the declaration at any time by notifying the charity - it will then not apply to donations you make on or after the date of the cancellation or such later date as you specify.
- 1.2 You must pay an amount of income tax and/or capital gains tax at least equal to the tax that the charity reclaims on your donations in the tax year (currently 28p for each pound you give).
- 1.3 If in future your circumstances change and you no longer pay tax on your income and capital gains equal to the tax that the charity reclaims, you can cancel your declaration(see note 1 .1)
- 1.4 If you pay tax at the higher rate you can claim further tax relief in your Self Assessment tax return.
- 1.5 If you are unsure whether your donations qualify for Gift Aid tax relief, ask the charity.Or you can ask your local tax office for leaflet IR113 Gift Aid

2. Give As You Earn

This is a tax free way of giving to charities direct from your pay and many employers have agreed to co-operate. The donation is deducted from your pay before your tax deduction is calculated. The Association is registered with the Charities Aid Foundation. If this appeals to you, please approach your employer with these details:

About AdventureSmart UK

Everyday thousands of people set off for an adventure in the great outdoors. Some choose strenuous sports such as rock climbing or coastering, others take a less extreme approach such as walking, cycling or simply playing on the beach with the family. The majority will have a fantastic time and will take home treasured memories; For a few their day will be marred by discomfort, brushes with danger or accidents and some will have to be helped by rescue and emergency services. Many of these incidents could have been easily avoided; With a little preparation everyone can help to ensure that their adventure is a treasured memory not a nightmare.

AdventureSmart UK is a rollout of the safety campaign AdventureSmartWales which was launched in 2018. The aim is to reduce the number of avoidable incidents which the rescue and emergency services deal with each year. The objective is to establish a comprehensive set of safety messages and to work with the outdoor sector to promote these far and wide. Experts from leading safety and sporting organisations have developed these messages to provide all the essential information needed for people to get outdoors, confident that they have prepared for a great day.

AdventureSmart UK is:

Positive: We want to encourage people to explore our landscapes safely not put the 'fear of death' into them. We have designed a range of messages to help keep people safe and comfortable in the outdoors, so they return to regale their friends with wonderful stories of their great adventure.

Consistent: From the start, when people begin to think about and research their chosen activity, through the planning process and repeatedly through their visit we want them to keep coming across the AdventureSmart messages and branding.

Friendly: It's not just what we say it's the way that we say it! Our conversations in print, online, or face to face should be inclusive and warm, with a personal, human touch; as if we are talking directly to a visitor.
